
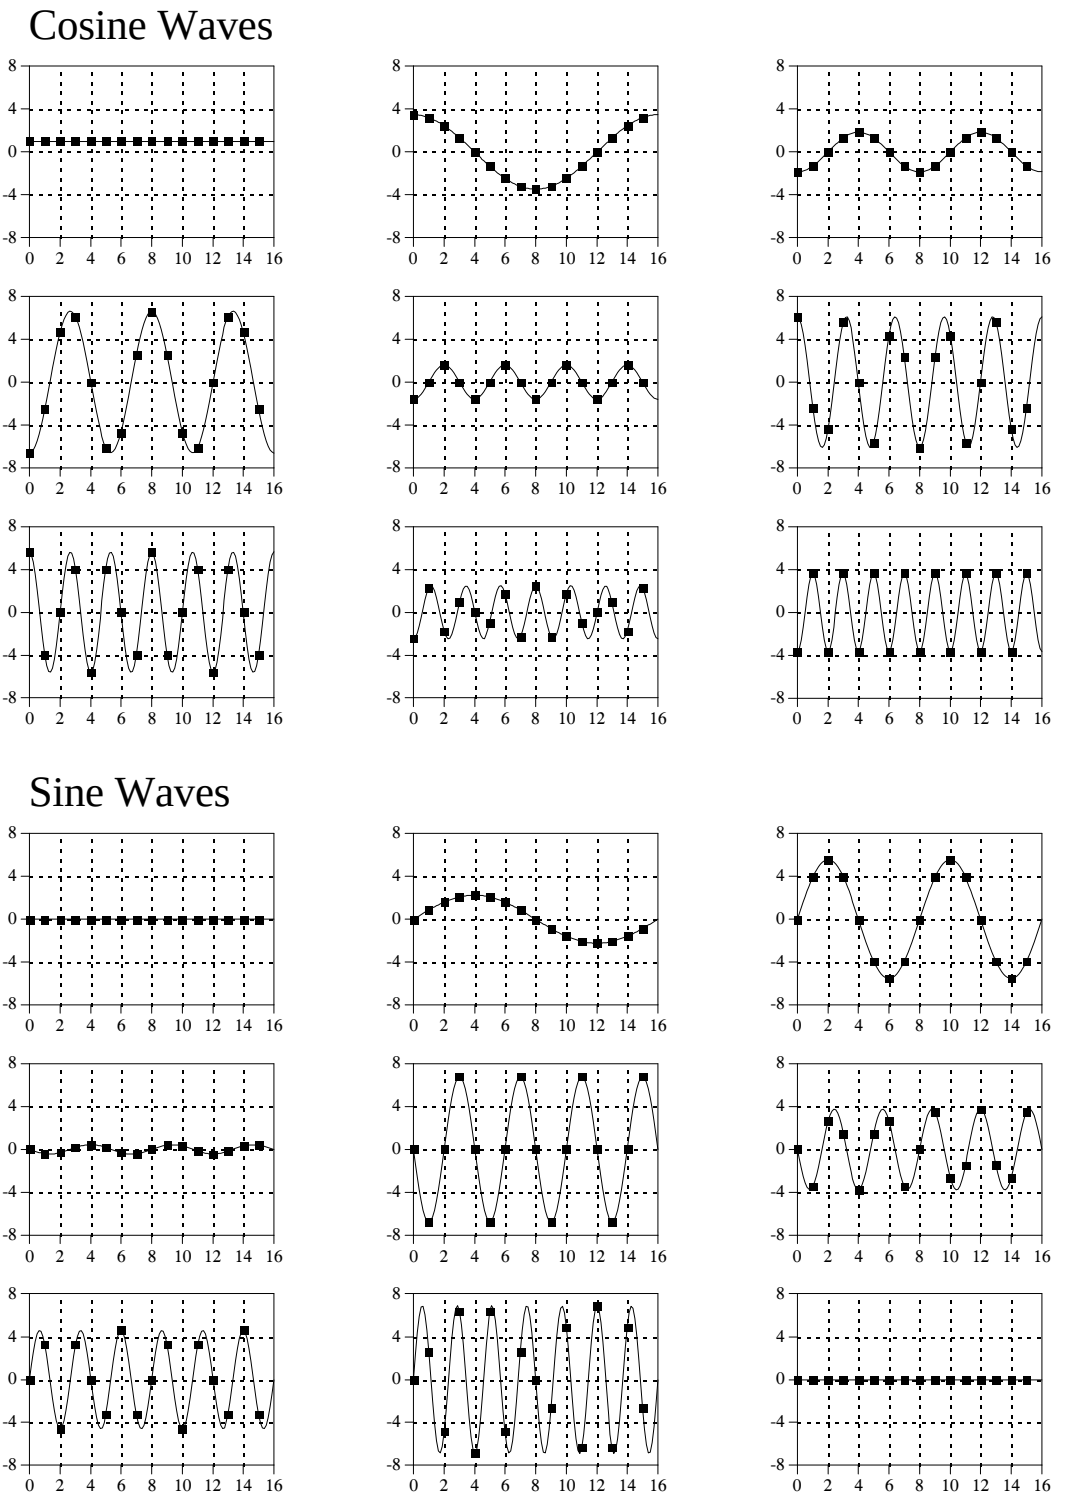

FIGURE 8-1b
Example of Fourier decomposition. A 16 point signal (opposite page) is decomposed into 9 cosine waves and 9 sine waves. The frequency of each sinusoid is fixed; only the amplitude is changed depending on the shape of the waveform being decomposed.